Missouri Pacific depot, holding an infant in her arms, and mouning and weeping piteously. Being interrogated by Mr. Barrett as to her trouble, she made a statement which may be given in brief as follows: Her name, she says, is Mrs. C. McIntyre, her maiden name having been Mittia Turner, and she was born and reared in Hilloris. She came to Texas several years ago, with her hus-band, and settled in Travis county, about fifteen miles from Austin. She was living happliy at that place with her husband until last Wednesday, when one Mrs. Smith came to her house and informed her that her sister, who lives at Gollad, was ill. She was desirous to get to her sister immediately, but had not the ready money to defray the expenses of the trip. Mrs. Smith then tendered her the loan of such Smith then tendered her the loan of such funds as she might require for that purpose, and her husband being consulted gave his sanction to the trip, and conveyed the party to Austin in his wagon, and bade them good-bye at the depot in that place. She says they bought no tick-ets, and after the train had started Mrs. Smith gave her a little money and told her to hand it to the con-ductor and tell him it was all she had, and At that place they left the train, and she was then informed by Mrs. Smith that if was then informed by Mrs. Smith that it she desired to proceed to San Antonio she must beg her way. This she refused to do, and Mrs. Smith, taking the two little children, went upon the streets of San Marcos, and when she returned to her, had not only sufficient money to pay city council of the city of Fortist and the streets of the city of Fortist and the city of

The following correspondence and list of application. It is generally supposed that there are within our borders not less than one hundred of these cases. For years no prosecutions were brought, but of late the federal court officials have come to the conclusion that it is just as much bigamy for a white man to marry a second wife who is an Indian, as though she were a white woman. The only satisfaction that class of law breakers have is the fact that unless some party interested brings this conclusion of experience in the Justice Allies and indicates the increasing confidence of the people, both in the plan and its most admirable management:

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is Ayen's Chemry Protoral. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Laryngitis, Bronehitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the curs of Colds and Influenza, silments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful edicacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speedlest and most certain to cure.
